

Taking an Exam Using Proctorio

Proctorio is a remote proctoring tool utilized to protect the integrity of the exam. Settings and requirements will vary by course and exam. Please review the Proctorio information below to ensure your device is equipped to meet the testing requirements.

1. Your computer must have a webcam and a microphone enabled during the exam.
2. Use Chrome (up-to-date) as your browser.
3. Log in to SSO.
4. You will be prompted to download an extension when you start your first exam using Proctorio.
5. You can delete this extension after the exam but will need to download it before subsequent exams.

During the exam, the following behaviors may trigger flags on your exam:

- Leaving the room once you begin the exam
- Having other people in the room during the exam
- Attempting to open additional screens (unless designated by teacher)
- Excessive background noise
- Multiple test-takers nearby (based on IP address mapping)

Before, during, or after the exam, you may be asked to show scratch paper, notes, and/or your calculator.
